

Employee Volunteer Programme Overview

Supporting Your Employees' Volunteering Efforts for Cancer Connect

An employee volunteer program is a structured initiative supported by the company, designed to encourage and facilitate employees' participation in community service activities, often during working hours.

Such programmes benefit the organisation, employees, and the wider community by enhancing brand reputation, fostering employee engagement and wellbeing, and creating a positive social impact. Benefits for Employees include skill development, personal satisfaction, improved wellbeing, and opportunities for networking with colleagues and the community.

How This Supports Cancer Connect:

Cancer Connect manages up to 150 trips weekly, providing vital transportation for patients attending cancer-related appointments across various locations. To meet this demand, additional volunteer drivers are essential. Their support ensures that Cancer Connect can consistently meet transportation requests, enabling patients to access necessary treatments without delay.

Volunteer Driver Programme:

- Interested employees can complete a simple application form (available on the website) and submit it along with a copy of their driver's license.
- Once registered, drivers can indicate their availability.
- The Cancer Connect team will contact drivers with trip details and connect them with passengers.
- The Voluntary Driver will pick up passengers from home in their own (or a Cancer Connect-owned) vehicle and transport them to and from their hospital appointment.

No medical training or assistance during appointments is required—this is community transport with a caring touch.

Committing just one day per month, quarter, or year can significantly enhance Cancer Connect's capacity to support the local community. To sign your team up, or for further information, please contact the office at 021 2038525.
